

EducationUSA Photography Challenge Open to All International Students in the United States!

We are pleased to announce the EducationUSA Photography Challenge to international students from around the globe!

Every student has a different story – their journey to the U.S., adjusting to campus life, interacting in the classroom, and so on. EducationUSA would like to share these stories with your peers and let the world know how far you have come!

If selected by our panel, your photos could become a key part of our EducationUSA publications and official website. Photos will be selected at different times throughout the year, and you can add photos whenever you like.

Share your college experience through pictures while encouraging other students like you to study in the United States!
